NOBLE COUNTY DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION.

The Democratic County Convention for Noble County will meet at the Court House in Albion, on Saturday, the 19th day of May next, for the purpose of nominating candidates for the several County offices to be supported at the next August election. Also, to select six delegates to attend the Congressional Convention at Fort Wayne on the 23d of May, and for the transaction of such other business as may come before said County Convention. By order of the Committee,
March 29, 1849.

We are authorized to announce the name of DAVID B. HERRMAN, Esq., of Noble County, as a candidate to represent the 10th District in the next Congress—subject to the decision of the Democratic Convention.

Mr. Editor:

Please announce the name of SAMUEL L. RUGG, Esq., of Adams Co. as a candidate for Congress in this district—subject of course to the decision of the Democratic Convention.

Mr. Rugg is well qualified for the station, and his honest, straight forward, and truly democratic course, gives him strong claims to the confidence and support of the democratic party in the district. I am not aware that Mr. Rugg seeks or would even accept a nomination, but I am satisfied that his selection would give entire satisfaction to all who are acquainted with him.

A DEMOCRAT.

We are authorized to announce the name of ANDREW J. HARLAN, Esq., of Grant County, as a candidate for Congress from the 10th District—subject to the decision of the Democratic Convention.

Fort Wayne & Lima Plank Road.—Twelve miles of this work are under contract and progressing rapidly towards completion. Upwards of one mile of the plank is already laid and gives entire satisfaction to all who travel over it. It fully demonstrates that the advantages claimed for this species of road have not been exaggerated; a span of horses easily draw any amount of load that can be placed on a wagon, and can travel with it at a speed exceeding what can be accomplished with an empty wagon on the common roads. The saving in the cost of transporting produce to the market will pay the interest on the whole outlay required for the road, several times over; while the property along the route will be enhanced in value to an amount far exceeding the whole cost of the road.

There will be a meeting of the Stockholders in the TELEGRAPH at the Court House THIS AFTERNOON, at 4 o'clock, for the purpose of appointing an operator, and selecting a suitable room for an office.

NOTICE.

The first annual meeting of "The Fort Wayne Agricultural & Horticultural Society" will be held in the basement of the 1st Presbyterian Church, on Tuesday evening, the 15th of May, at 7 o'clock.

An address will be delivered on the occasion by R. D. TURNER, Esq. A general attendance of the public is solicited.

W. ROCKHILL, Pres't.

T. K. BRACKENRIDGE, Sec'y.

"The cry is still the same."—We notice by the last Merion, Grant Co. Union, that Benjamin F. Wallace, and Judge Kilgore are announced as candidates for Congress in this district. The announcements don't say anything about being subject to the decision of a whig convention, so we presume the gentlemen named intend running any how. The more the merrier.

CONVICTION OF ENGELMAN.

Charles Engelman, better known as the Flying Dutchman, was tried at the Kosciusko Circuit Court, this week, (a change of venue having been taken from this County) on a charge of stealing county orders from the store of Messrs. Townley's in this city. After a long and patient investigation, the charge was fully proved, and the accused convicted and sentenced to two years imprisonment in the penitentiary at Jeffersonville, and a fine of $50. This is a righteous judgment, as there can be no earthly doubt that the prisoner was not only guilty of this offence, but also that he had long been carrying on a system of depredations, so adroitly concealed, that he continued for years to pass himself off for a man of property, receiving large remittances from his friends in Germany. As such he received into what is called the first circles; became quite a lion on a small scale, and a very dashing and gallant ladies' man. In the solitude of his cell he will have ample opportunities for reflection, which we hope he may improve, and by repentance and reformation qualify himself to fill a useful if not honorable station in society.

He will learn some useful trade or handicraft while in confinement, which will enable him on his liberation, if so inclined, to earn an honest livelihood.

The trial was held before Judge Chamberlain, who presided with great dignity and impartiality. His decision, firmness, and the order and decorum observed in all the proceedings of his court, are the theme of commendation of all the witnesses who attended the trial.

THE WEATHER.—After a long succession of chilly pinching winds, sharp frosts, cold rains, and occasional flurries of snow, we seem now to have some prospect of spring. Since Thursday the weather has been warm, accompanied by thunder showers. The season is quite backward, and many apprehend that the fruit has been entirely killed by the frost; but as far as we can learn this does not appear to be the case. Much has doubtless been killed, but there is still enough left to make an abundant supply if the season should prove favorable. The wheat crop looks quite promising.

By our exchanges we notice that nearly all parts of the Union have experienced similar cold weather. In Ohio, N. Jersey, and Delaware the peaches are supposed to be entirely killed, and in the Southern States the cotton plants have been injured by the frosts.

Ohio & Pennsylvania Railroad.—A large and enthusiastic meeting was held at Pittsburgh on the 23d ult. relative to the railroad which is intended to pass from Pittsburgh through Fort Wayne, to Chicago. Several speeches were made—among others, by Solomon W. Roberts, engineer of the railroad, and Col. Benton of Missouri, (who chanced to be in Pittsburgh on that day.) We look upon this route as one that promises eventually to become one of the most prominent thoroughfares in the Union, and feel confident that many years will not elapse before we shall see the "iron horse" passing through our streets, and bringing us within a few hours travel of Philadelphia & other eastern cities. One hundred thousand dollars in stock were subscribed at the close of the meeting.

We will publish the speeches of Col. Benton and Mr. Roberts in our next.

Bluffton Plank Road.—What are the directors of this much needed work doing? "The citizens of Wells County we learn have taken nearly enough stock to complete their portion of the work; but in this county we cannot learn that any thing has yet been done. The apathy evinced by our citizens on a subject of such vital importance to the prosperity of the place is truly surprising and inexplicable. There is no one who will not acknowledge that the work ought to be undertaken at once, and yet no one is lifting a finger in its behalf. The directors ought certainly to be better themselves, and that too, without delay. The stock should be taken in time to procure the team saw-mills before the close of navigation, and have them in operation through the winter, so as to insure an ample supply of plank on hand next spring to warrant the putting the whole line under contract as soon as the frost is sufficiently out of the ground. There is no necessity for delay; the work could just as well be done in one year as in two, or three, or five; and our city would in the mean time be reaping the benefits. Produce would come in; business would revive; the faces of our merchants would grow rosy, and our hearts would be made glad. In this matter there can be no doubt we are right, and all we have got to do is to GO AHEAD.

New Books.—We would direct attention to the advertisement of Messrs. Gates, Steadman & Co. The books advertised are of a sterling character, and deserving a general circulation.

The American's Own Book, containing the Constitution of the U. States, and of each State in the Union, with much other useful matter, is a book which should find a place on the book shelf of every American citizen.

The School and Family History of England

is prepared by a gentleman favorably known as a writer of ability and admirably adapted to the task.

The Cyclopaedia of Domestic Medicine is a book which should be found in every family. It is highly recommended by the press both in the Eastern cities and in England. We have received four Nos. of the work, and freely endorse all that is said in its favor.

These works are published by Gates, Steadman & Co. 116 Nassau St. New York. Agents are wanted for their sale in every town in the Union.

We would also recommend SEARS' PICTORIAL WORKS which are advertised in our columns, as amongst the best publications of the day, especially for families.

A travelling agent is wanted for this part of the country, to whom liberal terms are offered, and who we think could not fail making a very handsome income. Address ROBERT SEARS, 123 Nassau St., New York.

Folly and Fanaticism.—The correspondent of the Northampton Gazette says that multitudes of petitions are daily offered to the House, signed by boys and girls and old women in breeches, praying the Legislature to call a convention of the people of Massachusetts, to effect a secession from the Union. This is a specimen of the extent to which fanaticism and folly can go, in a State celebrated for its intelligence. However, if Massachusetts wishes to secede from the Union, we for one have no objections to let her go. The Union would get along much better without Massachusetts than Massachusetts could without the Union.

Later from Chagres and the Pacific.

The U. S. mail steamer Idemus, Captain Baker, arrived here yesterday from Havana, after a sail of seventy-five hours. We have papers from that city of the 10th inst.

The Falcon left here on the 21st ultimo. She arrived at Chagres on the evening of the 25th—all well. She sailed from Chagres the evening of the 1st instant and arrived at Havana the morning of the 6th, and on the 8th left for New York. Twenty-eight California men, in despair of ever reaching their point of destination, were rescued from the Falcon on the way to a fresh start.

The steamer Maria Bart arrived at Chagres on the 1st instant, just as the Falcon was leaving. Our news from Panama is down to the 31st of March. Up to 9 o'clock that day the California had not arrived there. A whale ship arrived on the 30th, and would take the passengers for San Francisco. People were flocking daily to Chagres from all parts of the world. All the Galveston passengers had reached there in a brig and three schooners. It is estimated that there were at Panama at the end of March 1,500 people a la route to California; at Georgia and Cruces 700 more. Much distress and some sickness is said to prevail on the isthmus. The large number of emigrants have, of course, nothing to do, and they busy themselves in all sorts of amusements. Gambling and frolicking are represented to us as being quite on the ascendant. Some companies which set out for California pledged neither to gamble nor drink, have been forced to consider the transit across the isthmus as a contingency not within their control, and act accordingly. Many, too, are particularly short of funds, dreaming little of a month's or two month's detention.

(From the Panama Star, March 24.)

Several parties are now in the city, making geological and mineralogical examinations. They are highly pleased with their success thus far, and there is no knowing but that they may discover deposits of gold as rich as those of California. We have seen some of the ore washed out of the beds of rivers, and taken out of quarries, and we have seen a deal of interest for their further examinations.

The survey for a railroad under the contract of Messrs. Aspinwall & Co. is going on with much rapidity; the examination of the engineers are proving more flattering than they had anticipated. The building of this road taken by the isthmus route, and the great advantage Panama, aside from all other considerations, an important point for business, and increase the value of property.

The climate here is pleasant as could be desired, the nights cool and comfortable, and the days warm and agreeable, the thermometer ranging at a pleasant temperature all the time, while the refreshing breezes of the Pacific keep up a fine and continuous circulation of pure air. The health of Panama is good as any point on the Pacific or Atlantic oceans. It is not fortunate that our countrymen are thus blessed while in waiting for transportation to their destination.

The advice from the south by the English steamer, however, informs us that we will be supplied with extensive and commodious means, a large number of fine vessels having already sailed for this point.

Arrival from California.—We were favored yesterday morning with a conversation with Mr. Anderson, a young gentleman from New York City, on his way home from San Francisco. He left that port on the 20th of November, but in his delay picked up intelligence from other sources much later than his own. He was 74 days in reaching Valparaiso, having taken passage in a sailer which was becalmed many days. At Valparaiso he delayed three weeks, and then came on in a British steamer in twenty days.

Mr. A. is a merchant, and said that a party gave him credit for having in his possession, in the genuine solid, $100,000 in gold going round in the Lexington. He reports that a large number of vessels, at the time he left and since, were lying at San Francisco, deserted by their crews, and the officers left on board unable to obtain subsistence. He thinks, as did others, that the California, which he had heard of, was more fortunate than the other vessels. When he left Valparaiso the Lexington was about sailing, and the Independence hourly looked for from Callao, both bound home round the Cape. The former with full cargo of gold, and the latter with diggings for parties in the States. Mr. A. went out in Col. Stevenson's regiment. After reporting himself and small change in New York, and converting it into coin, he intends to return for the purpose of operating on exchanges. He says that at Valparaiso every man is in the diggings, and that there is no other cause for it than the fact that the gold is so abundant. Now, boys, don't despair after this. Keep hope bright, for better days are coming.

Vessels lately arrived at Callao and Valparaiso confirm the existence of inexhaustible mines of gold there. The quality extracted has been immense, and new discoveries are constantly being made.

Odd Fellows in Panama.—A meeting of the Odd Fellows in Panama, was held on the evening of March 25, 1849, for the purpose of making some arrangements for the Odd Fellows then sick or disabled in that city.

Money was raised, and a committee of seven was appointed to "attend to the wants of those Odd Fellows and Americans sick" in Panama, and the meeting made it the duty of the committee to see that they, the sick and destitute, shall not want for anything, and to call upon any of the order in the city to aid in taking care of the sick.

Authoritative.—The Boston Evening Transcript, edited by Eben Sargent, Esq., brother of John O. Sargent, Esq., who is represented as connected with A. C. Bullitt, Esq., about to establish a new government organ Washington City, says in reference thereto, that "the new press is to be established at the instance of Gen. Taylor."

LATER FROM EUROPE.

Important and Thrilling News—Rise in the Price of Breadstuffs, &c. &c.

NEW YORK, April 27, 1849.

The steamer Cambria arrived at Halifax, by telegraph and express, and arrived last night.

The Cambria brings Liverpool dates to the 14th instant, and her news is of much interest.

In consequence of the reception of hostile intelligence from Germany and Denmark, whereby the supplies from the shores of the Baltic are almost entirely cut off, the Liverpool Corn market has evinced marked symptoms of animation, and prices have advanced.

Best Ohio flour is now quoted at 24c25c. (85 lbs) 65c—western canal 23c. 64c24c. Yellow corn 32c. per quarter of eight bushels. Corn meal 13c14c. per barrel.

Beef sold slowly at retail. Pork has but a limited demand with receding prices for western. Bacon sold freely at 35c35c. 6d. for western. The stock is considerably reduced. Hams are dull—the best shoulders brought the extreme price of 51c31c. per cwt. Fine quality of cheese are scarce. The general demand is dull.

Denmark and Prussia—A Battle.—Hostilities have recommenced between Denmark and Prussia.

The Danish fleet, in an attempt to capture the fortress of Eschendorf, was defeated. One of the lines of battle ships and a frigate fell into the hands of the Prussians.

Austria and Hungary—A Battle—Hungarians Victorious.—A victory has been gained by the Hungarians over the Austrians, in which the latter lost 1,300 men and 14 pieces of cannon.

Blockade of numerous Ports.—Palermo is blockaded by a Neapolitan fleet. The Austrian fleet has blockaded the Port of Venice; and the fleet of Denmark, engaged in blockading the German Ports of Camin, Volgar, Gieswold, Stralsund, and Rostock.

Germany—King of Prussia refusing to be Emperor.—Central Germany is in the greatest confusion. The King of Prussia having refused the offer of the imperial crown, new elections have arisen.

ITALY.—The people of Italy having gained a temporary triumph, Genoa and Tuscany are preparing to resist further encroachments. The Pope is still at Gaeta.

NAPLES AND SICILY.—The King of Naples is preparing for an immediate attack upon Sicily.

FRANCE.—The coming elections.—France is quiet, though all parties are preparing for the great election struggle. Thirty seats are vacant in the Chamber of Deputies, in consequence of deaths or resignations.

La Presse, newspaper, states that neither the French nor English governments are taking part in the negotiations about to be opened at Vienna for the conclusion of peace between Austria and Piedmont.

The cholera is making sad havoc among the troops who are quartered at the temporary barracks erected in the several quarters of Paris. There are thirty-eight vacant seats in the 2nd assembly caused by deaths and resignations.

ENGLAND.—England is quiet, with a less favorable prospect of a revival of trade than formerly.

AUSTRIAN ITALY—Horrible Cruelties.—Brescia has fallen into the hands of the Austrians, and is in ruins. It was the seat of the great pestilence, and the inhabitants driven from the houses, and many of them burned alive.

IRELAND—More Suffering and Misery.—The news from Ireland continue of the most distressing nature, and record volumes of misery for the people of that ill-fated land.

The trial of Duffy, for treason, is still progressing, and the result was not known when the steamer sailed.

(Correspondence of the Baltimore Sun.)

WASHINGTON, April 19, 1849.

The Executive Organs—Probable want of Harmony.

I have no doubt that the administration will be fairly represented by the various organs which are to speak for it. Each one may represent the views of some one member or portion of the administration. The "Republican" will speak for General Taylor and support the principles upon which he was elected. The "Intelligencer" will be the organ of the policy of the whig party (proper) so far as it respects the administration. The "Whig" may be the organ of such portion of the administration as may depart from the policy advocated by its co-officials.

The several organs must either say nothing or else express different and hostile opinions, as has been the case already with the two organs now existing. They will all agree upon the policy of reformation—that is, general, but not indiscriminate turning out of democrats. But when they touch the free soil question, the tariff question, and the financial question, there may be less of harmony in their views.

The "Union," I notice, proposes to meet the pressure of the three papers, with increased energy, and should distinguish itself by a "Sub agency among the Indians," that they had already acquired a new pen.

James says that Mr. Burke, of the Patent Office, should be removed, will become an associate editor of the "Union."

Extensive Robbery at New Orleans.—The following is from the New Orleans Picayune of the 8th instant:

One of the most daring and extensive robberies we have lately heard of, was committed yesterday morning, at the house of Baily, Blanchard & Co. Mr. Blanchard, a French gentleman, residing in New Orleans, had a large amount in a "bond box," which he deposited in the bank. Mr. B. sent to the bank for the box about the time above mentioned, when it was brought in by a young man and laid upon the counter. The young man stepped outside the door, and the box was not observed by Mr. B. The young man, who was dressed in the attire of a city, and of whom stepping back to Mr. Blanchard, asked him about some brandy, stating that they wished to purchase a considerable quantity. The two men engaged the attention of Mr. B. in sampling brandy, while the third, remained behind, and it is supposed walked off with the box. The two customers soon went away. When the young man came into the store again, he was asked by Mr. B. about the box, and the fact of the enormous loss then came out. It contained in gold and silver, bank notes, notes of hand, checks, drafts, &c., over $300,000. Altogether, this is one of the most daring robberies ever committed in the city, and considering the time of day when it took place, it is almost a miracle that the second floor should go unnoticed. Every precaution has been taken, and we are confident that the robbers will be caught in a few days.

Post-Office for California.—A portable post-office of wood, the Washington Whig says, has been constructed containing pigeon holes for letters, and places for books, &c., to be conveyed to California. It is not probably the most durable, but it will make a rush at new roads. The truth was, however, that it was difficultly existed, they had closed the door which separate the lower lobby of the house assembly from the entrance hall and great stair case, and thus, like the persons in the passage above, remained in ignorance of the entrance of the men who carried off the mace, and the fact that they had left the front door open. This was of course discovered on entering the hall, and all passed into the stairs. The flames had already enveloped the whole of that end of the building, which is situated revoked by the English government has sadly disappointed our protectionists, who had hoped to find in the example of that government a sort of excuse for returning to the old system, which, with an insidious regard for the absurdity, they are so fond of. Although the English some time since resolved upon the overthrow of the corn-laws, it has not until now been any means certain that they would be completely abolished. Apart from the good that will flow to the English people themselves from this wise resolution, it is to be rejoiced at because of the effect it must have upon the civilized world. England's influence in matters of commerce and manufactures is still of the first class, though in a few years more it must come to be second to the United States; and perhaps there was never a more fortunate thing for the cause of liberal principles than the fact that Great Britain, while ranking as the first of commercial powers, was compelled to throw aside the restrictive system of which she had so long been the greatest champion among the nations. In upholding that system, for a period of almost two centuries, dating from the time of the passage of the Navigation Act, England was compelled to wage many long, costly, and in some instances disastrous wars, and to incur a debt that now weighs upon her energies, and which must for a long time prevent her from playing the part of an effective upholder of liberal principles. Her position has been happily compared by one of her own sons, to that of an aged debauchee, who has been brought to a knowledge of his errors through suffering, but whose knowledge is wholly useless for good because all his means of doing good were expended during youth and manhood. The example should serve to let our countrymen like the United States soon destined to take the place of England, it should teach us that a liberality in national matters is as ennobling and productive as it is in the concerns of individual life. The notion that what other countries gain is necessarily our loss, is unworthy of the common sense of men, and of the religious dispensation under which we live. That teaching us that we should rejoice over rather than regret the prosperity of others. The truth is, every nation is benefited by the prosperity of any of its contemporaries. England cannot prosper without the United States sharing in her prosperity, nor can we be in a commercially sound position, unless England is depressed.

The passion for free trade, which has existed for centuries, making enemies of the different branches of the human family, must come down, now that England has entered upon a nobler career than she has hitherto pursued. It may be that she acted only by selfish motives in changing her policy, but now it is the right and the good, less on that account. It is with the fruit that the world will have to do, and not with the sower of the seed. Generations sit under the shade of trees that were originally planted only to gratify the selfishness of an individual, and their enjoyment was not the less because the thought was of their comfort.—Boston Times.

Destruction by the Cold at the South.—From all parts of North and South Carolina, Georgia and Alabama, the account comes of wide extended destruction to the growing crops, by the snow and frosts, on the 15th and 16th.—The Charleston papers give copious extracts from different parts to this effect, and a dispatch from Macon, Georgia, records the destruction of the cotton, wheat, and corn crops, and also the fruits and vegetables, in middle and upper Georgia and Alabama. From one half to three quarters of the cotton was up.—The destruction is general and we fear very disastrous. The Millerville Journal says that the wheat was fully earled. The worst of it is, that in almost every section there is said to be no cotton seed to replant.

GREAT RIOT IN MONTREAL.

Burning of the Parliament House.—Great loss of Private Property by Fire.

MONTREAL, April 26.

The Montreal Herald of this morning says: Notwithstanding the great excitement which had been manifested outside of the Parliament House after the Governor General's assent had been given to the rebellion bill, the House continued in session passing one or two measures through committee with more than usual quietness, and apparently in perfect confidence. It soon became known, however, that a meeting had been called for the evening of a carriage wheel, accompanied by some person who proclaimed the appointment caused a momentary rush to the windows.

At the moment the writer reached the ground some person appeared to be proposing a list of names for a committee, but the lights were extinguished immediately, and another voice addressed the assembly. There was then a cry of "To the Parliament House."

Mr. Price was in the news room at the moment the writer passed the stairs of the smoking room, and there was only time to say "they are coming," when a shower of stones appeared to have smashed every window in the house.

The message was the only place that afforded shelter from stones that now poured in from all sides. The apartments on each side protected that spot from the missiles, and there a large number of persons immediately congregated. We noticed the speaker, Sir A. McNab, Col. Gage, Messrs. Bagley, Bell, Cameron, Drummond, Papineau, Madams, St. Julien, and her maid from the bar, and some other members of the Assembly.

All was confusion. Some said they will fire the buildings, others they are breaking in and will attack us. Some desire to go up stairs to the smoking room, but the majority appeared resolved to wait the event, and face the assault, and not pass through the chamber to the place where they were.

Some one now asked "who would go and talk to the crowd?" Sir Allen McNab immediately volunteered to do so, and entered the Assembly chamber for that purpose; but the volleys which were coming through the windows made it evident that he could not pass the length of the apartment without the certainty of being knocked down.

There was one immediate cry for him to return. About this time it appears that some persons entered the house and carried away the mace, and in all probability there would have been no difficulty in passing through as they retired, and of descending the great stair case to the front door; but those in the passage still continued to suppose the crowd were without and would refuse to allow them to pass. The only hope was that the military would speedily arrive.

Then some persons opened the door of the news room and raised the cry that the building was on fire; on looking through the glass door which opens between the stairs and the refreshment lobby, this was found to be the case.

The whole evening was in flames, which was fast coming to the wooden gallery. It was now time to make some effort to escape and save a broken head rather than incur the danger of remaining longer. The writer accordingly descended the back stairs to the large lobby below, where several clerks had assembled and were determined to make a rush at the front door. The truth was, however, that it was difficultly existed, they had closed the door which separate the lower lobby of the house assembly from the entrance hall and great stair case, and thus, like the persons in the passage above, remained in ignorance of the entrance of the men who carried off the mace, and the fact that they had left the front door open. This was of course discovered on entering the hall, and all passed into the stairs. The flames had already enveloped the whole of that end of the building, which is situated

The following named persons were appointed a Central Committee for said County, to serve as such for the ensuing year, to wit: Jesse Niblock, Oliver T. Hart, Samuel L. Rugg, Wm. Miesse, John N. Little.

The kindest feelings, and a great deal of enthusiasm and unanimity prevailed throughout the meeting, which gives a strong assurance of the prosperity of the cause, and the final triumph of the ticket.

We are authorized to announce the name of DAVID D. HERRIMAN, Esq. of Noble county, as a candidate to represent the 10th District in the next Congress—subject to the decision of the Democratic Convention.

Mr. Editor:
Please unavow the name of SAMUEL L. RUGG, Esq. of Adams Co. as a candidate for Congress in this district—subject of course to the decision of the Democratic Convention.

Mr. Rugg is well qualified for the station, and his honest, straightforward, and truly democratic course, gives him strong claims to the confidence and support of the democratic party in the district. I am not aware that Mr. Rugg seeks or would even accept a nomination, but I am satisfied that his selection would give entire satisfaction to all who are acquainted with him. A DEMOCRAT.

We are authorized to announce the name of ANDREW J. HANLAN, Esq. of Grant county as a candidate for Congress from the 10th District—subject to the decision of the Democratic Convention.

Fort Wayne & Lima Plank Road.—Twelve miles of this work are under contract and pressing rapidly towards completion. Upwards of one mile of the plank is already laid and gives entire satisfaction to all who travel over it. It fully demonstrates that the advantages claimed for this species of road have not been exaggerated; a span of horses easily draw any amount of load that can be placed on a wagon, and can travel with it at a speed exceeding what can be accomplished with the empty wagon on the common roads. The saving in the cost of transporting produce to the market will pay the interest on the whole outlay required for the road, several times over; while the property along the route will be enhanced in value to an amount far exceeding the whole cost of the road.

There will be a meeting of the Stockholders in the TELEGRAPH at the Court House THIS AFTERNOON at 4 o'clock for the purpose of appointing an operator, and selecting a suitable room for an office.

NOTICE.
The first annual meeting of "The Fort Wayne Agricultural & Horticultural Society" will be held in the basement of the 1st Presbyterian Church, on Tuesday evening, the 15th of May, at 7 o'clock.

An address will be delivered on the occasion by R. D. THOMSON, Esq. A general attendance of the public is solicited.

W. ROCKHILL, Pres't.
T. K. BLACKBURN, Sec'y.

"The cry is still the same." We notice by the last Morning Grant Co. Union, that Benjamin F. Wallace, and Judge Kibbe are nominated as candidates for Congress in this district. The announcements don't say anything about being subject to the decision of a party convention, so we presume the gentlemen named intend running any how. The more the merrier.

CONVENTION OF ENGLISHMEN.—Charles Engelman, better known as the Flying Dutchman, was tried at the Kosciuszko Circuit Court, this week, (a change of venue having been taken from this County) on a charge of testifying county orders from the store of Mrs. Townley in this city. After a long and patient investigation, the charge was fully proved, and the accused convicted and sentenced to two years imprisonment in the penitentiary at Jeffersonville, and a fine of $50. This is a righteous judgment, as there can be no cordiality about the prisoner was not only guilty of this offense, but also that he had long been carrying on a system of depredations, so audaciously concealed, that he continued for years to pass himself off for a man of property, receiving large remittances from his friends in Germany. As such he received into what is called the first circles; became quite a lion on a small scale, and a very dashing and gallant looking man. In the solitude of his cell he will have ample opportunities for reflection, which we hope he will improve, and by reformation and reformation qualify himself to fill a useful if not honorable station in society.

He will learn some useful trade or handicraft while in confinement, which will enable him on his liberation, if so inclined, to earn an honest livelihood.

The trial was held before Judge Chamberlain, who presided with great dignity and impartiality. His decision, firmness, and the order and decorum observed in all the proceedings of his court, are the theme of commendation of all the witnesses who attended the trial.

THE WEATHER.—After a long succession of chilly pinching winds, sharp frosts, cold rains, and occasional blizzards of snow, we now have some prospect of spring. Since Thursday the weather has been warm, accompanied by thunder showers. The season is quite backward, and many apprehend that the fruit has been entirely killed by the frost; but as far as we can learn this does not appear to be the case. Much has doubtless been killed, but there is still enough left to make an abundant supply if the season should prove favorable. The wheat crop looks quite promising.

By our exchanges we notice that nearly all parts of the Union have experienced similar cold weather. In Ohio, N. Jersey, and Delaware the peaches are supposed to be entirely killed, and in the Southern States the cotton plants have been injured by the frosts.

Ohio & Pennsylvania Railroad.—A large and enthusiastic meeting was held at Pittsburgh on the 23d ult. relative to the railroad which is intended to pass from Pittsburgh through Fort Wayne to Chicago. Several speeches were made—among others, by Solomon W. Roberts, engineer of the railroad, and Col. Benton of Missouri, (who declined to be in Pittsburgh on that day.) We look upon this route as one that promises eventually to become one of the most prominent thoroughfares in the Union, and feel confident that many years will not elapse before we shall see the "iron horse" passing through our streets, and bringing us within a few hours travel of Philadelphia & other eastern cities. One hundred thousand dollars in stock were subscribed at the close of the meeting.

We will publish the speeches of Col. Benton and Mr. Roberts in our next.

Bluffton Plank Road.—What are the directors of this much needed work doing? The citizens of Wells county we learn have taken nearly enough stock to complete their portion of the work; but in this county we cannot learn that any thing has yet been done. The apathy evinced by our citizens on a subject of such vital importance to the prosperity of the place is truly surprising and inexplicable. There is no one who will not acknowledge that the work ought to be undertaken at once, and yet no one is lifting a finger in its behalf. The directors ought certainly to be self-reliant, and that, too, without delay. The stock should be taken in time to prevent the team saw-mills before the close of navigation, and have them in operation through the winter, so as to insure an ample supply of plank as soon as next spring to warrant the putting of the whole line under contract as soon as the frost is sufficiently out of the ground. There is no necessity for delay; the work could just as well be done in one year as in two, or three, or five; and our city would in the mean time be reaping the benefits. Produce would come in; business would revive; the faces of our merchants would grow smoother and brighter; and we should have no more of hard times. In this matter there can be no doubt we are right, and all we have got to do is to go ahead.

New Books.—We would direct attention to the advertisement of Messrs. Gates, Steadman & Co. The books advertised are of a sterling character, and deserving a general circulation.

The American's Own Book. containing the Constitution of the U. States, and of each State in the Union, with much other useful matter, is a book which should find a place on the book shelf of every American citizen.

The School and Family History of England

is prepared by a gentleman favorably known as a writer of ability and admirably adapted to the task.

The Encyclopedia of Domestic Medicine is a book which should be found in every family. It is highly recommended by the press both in the Eastern cities and in England. We have received four Nos. of the work, and freely endorse all that is said in its favor.

These works are published by Messrs. Steadman & Co. 116 Nassau St. New York. Agents are wanted for their sale in every town in the Union.

We would also recommend Messrs' Pictorial Works which are advertised in our columns, as among the best publications of the day, especially for families.

A travelling agent is wanted for this part of the country, to whom liberal terms are offered, and who we think could not fail making a very handsome income. Address ROBERT SEARS, 123 Nassau St. New York.

Fully and Fully.—The correspondent of the Northampton Gazette states that multitudes of petitions are daily offered in the House, signed by boys and girls and old women in branches, praying the Legislature to call a convention of the people of Massachusetts, to effect a secession from the Union. This is a specimen of the extent to which fanaticism and folly can go, in a State celebrated for its intelligence. However, Massachusetts wishes to secede from the Union, we for one have objections to let her go. The Union would get along much better without Massachusetts than Massachusetts could without the Union.
